

Shanghai University of Finance and Economics

Shanghai University of Finance and Economics (SUFU) is a leading research university with a specialization in business studies, ideally located in the vibrant international city of Shanghai. Perennially, SUFE is inviting foreign professors from around the world to teach in Shanghai for the SUFE Joint Undergraduate Program (JUP) - a young, yet dynamic academic program aiming to equip SUFE students toward success in the increasingly connected world network of economics and cultures. To meet students' enthusiasm for the program, JUP has expanded subjects offered to include Econometrics, Banking, International Economics, Trade and International Accounting etc. For more information about SUFE, see website below.
