

Christopher L. Busey

Assistant Professor
School of Teaching and Learning
College of Education
University of Florida

Dr. Busey's research broadly examines the intersection of race and education across multiple contexts with a specific focus on social studies curriculum and pedagogy, curriculum history, critical race theory, and teacher education. His more current work focuses on [re-] conceptualizing and contextualizing narratives relevant to Afro-Latinx education and Black Diaspora history within K-20 curricular discourses. Dr. Busey's research also relies upon critical theories of race to examine teacher education practices in addition to the lived experiences of students and educators of color in various educational settings.

He has published over 15 articles and book chapters related to race and education. Dr. Busey is a member of the American Educational Research Association (AERA), National Association for Multicultural Education (NAME), Latin American Studies Association (LASA), and is the 2018 College and University Faculty Assembly (CUFA) Program Chair.

Dr. Busey was formerly an assistant professor of education at Texas State University before coming to the University of Florida.

Global Research Interests

- Representations of Afro-Latin America in public school curriculum across the Americas
- Civic education in Afro-Latin communities
- Black history and ethnic education in Latin America
- Political reform and ethnic education in Latin America

Countries and Region of Study

- Colombia
- Nicaragua
- Latin America & the Caribbean

Mentor

Sharon Austin-Wright, Associate Professor Department of Political Science
College of Liberal Arts and Sciences
E: polssdw@ufl.edu

Connect

E: cbusey@coe.ufl.edu
T: +1 352- 273-4041